He had to go it sands back of his own line to get the ball, but when he did get it he was awas so fast that he not only regulated the 10 vards lost by the pass, but went 15 yards more before he could be stopped. Orb Walker played his usual hard, fast game. Tom flwyer also played a great game. At one time Tom recovered a forward pass and started down the field with it. A soldier got in front of him, and Tom simply ducked his head and ran into the man full tilt. The force of the blow was so great that the soldier was compelled to retire from the game, and it was later stated that he had had several ribs broken. "Buster" Biggs played up to his usual high standard, both at end and half, and Leasure, who is only a novice at the game, played a fine end.

machine a number of new plays that will be executed in this year's annual clash.

Despite the loss of Brickley, greatist of all punters and drop kinkers. Harvard today has demonstrated itself the peer of the big college elevens. On the other hand Yale has proved herself exceedingly weak at times.

When Washington and Jefferson, second only to Harvard in strength and speed this year, defeated Yale, the coaches and supporters of the blus made excuses by saying the team covered up its trick plays because Harvard coaches and players were witnessing the game. Be this as it may, Yale marrowly escaped being trounced Saturday afternoon at the hands of the Princeton Tiger, winning by a score of 15 to 14, making but one more touchdown than did the vanquished.

Harvard is Undefeated.

Harvard has not been defeated this scars against the big sastern teams she has played. The grimson defeated Princeton by a score of 20 to 0, outclassing the Tiger in every department. And the Tiger nearly proved the equal of Yale. So on past performances. Harvard looks at least an 8 to 5 shet in the betting.

Aside from the Yale-Princeton game the other contosts ran to form Saturday and no big surprises were approx.

The Army rolled up a hig score against Maine, winning by a score of 28 to 6, but this was expected.

Bartmouth Bears Pennsylvania.

Dartmouth Beats Pennsylvania.

Dennsylvania, a shell of the old ishting machine that brought many aurels to the university, was again zampled in the dust Saturday. Dartmouth turned the trick, winning by a core of $1$ to $0$.

The Navy showed great strength quints Colby, a team that has proved surprise this meason. The middles can by a score of $1$ to $2$. The annual net between the army and many this eason, should prove as thrilling as nose in former years.

have interested the club owners in the two pitchers to such an extent that they have told, him to go abead and buy them from Mack if it is possible. With Bender and Plank on the Tiger team, that aggregation will loom up dangerous as a pennant contender in 1915. It's a 2 to 1 bet that if Janainga gets these two stars he will finish ahead of the Athietics.

Jennings is now reported negotiating with both twirlers. Terms have not yet been announced. It is a known fact that the Federals have been after both Bender and Flank, and the latter has been considering a tempting offer. Just what course events will take regarding the trio of hurlers "canned" by Mack will only be answered by time.

Another redskin has been added to the National league roster. Homer Glass, a fullblooded twirler from Oklahoma, who has just completed an enlistment in the marine corps has been signed by the Glants. These who have seen Glass perform say that he is a second Bender.

The Glants have also signed Robert Reed, for several seasons the star third baseman of the Princeton Ulgers, Reed is one of the best college infielders of recent Years.
